

Let there be light

You know you want more rejuvenation than a normal facial can give, but you're not ready for intrusive procedures. Enter Omnilux Revive: not a laser or an IPL treatment, instead it's a non-invasive, non-surgical therapy that uses light to complement the body's own natural ability to refresh the skin and help minimise the appearance of visible signs of skin ageing.

"Think of it as a deeper massage for the area of your skin that a therapist's hands can't reach," says Mandy Gray,

Marketing Director of True Solutions International, the Omnilux Revive distributor in Australia and New Zealand.

Using only the red-light component of the natural white-light spectrum, Omnilux Revive stimulates skin's natural moisture renewal process by deeply hydrating and plumping skin.

The 30-minute Omnilux Revive treatment is usually paired with salon facials for maximum results. Skin usually looks clearer, brighter and smoother after the first treatment.
